Great Support of CSC Facilitating Overseas Application

Per the attendee's feedback from our PhD Workshop, more than 80% of them are looking for state-funded PhD programs and projects. And according to China Scholarship Council (CSC) under Ministry of Education, the Chinese government is still confirming to fund about 7,000 top-notch doctoral candidates each year in order to encourage such candidates to further their PhD studies and research in qualified programs and projects outbound, which include Full PhD programs and Joint PhD programs. Additionally, CSC also launched Cultivating Innovative Talents Program to encourage qualified applicants for overseas PhD programs.

We believe the lucrative support with financial aid and with precious opportunities for overseas PhD studies and research, will facilitate the candidates application. However, the PhD Workshop China will be definitely the best source for you to explore these excellent applications for the programs you offer.

Rise of PhD Workshop China and Sign of Academic Community

The PhD Workshop China since 2009 hosted by China Education Association for International Exchange (CEAIE), has served as a unique place where excellent overseas institutions and professors interview with brilliant PhD talents. Last year, the Workshop combined online webinars and offline in-person interviews, and these 21 online webinars attracted more than 600 attendees per session averagely, while the in-person interviews fostered a great number of direct interactions, attracting about 50 professors/delegates from more than 20 institutions from 8 countries attended separately in Beijing and Shanghai, and more than 1,200 pre-registered students. They arranged nearly 1,800 meeting requests and some 1,050 interviews were made successfully onsite.

Creative iSchedule System Making Difference to Your On-site Interviews

Talking about the difference from other PhD recruitment event, the customized iSchedule Appointment System is the special code of our PhD Workshop, which has been created over the past 17 years and polished yearly since its debut in 2009, as our PhD Workshop China advocates direct interviews and meetings between professors/delegates and PhD candidates. By this friendly-used tool, the professors/delegates and qualified candidates could make interactive online messages and appointment beforehand for profound in-person interviews and meetings onsite.

The smart iSchedule system enables professors/delegates not only to preview candidate registration details, such as CVs, academic transcripts and research proposals, but also to pick out the suitable candidates for relevant PhD and research programs, which greatly helps professors and candidates to know each other well ahead of time, and make the onsite interviews and meetings meaningful and fruitful.
